

Global Fund Advocacy on the Road to SDG3: Examining the “Last Mile First”, Key Populations Concepts for Universal Health Coverage & What the Global Fund Model Brings to Discussions on SDG3

When: Wednesday October 9th - 9:30-10:50

Where: Congress Centre Forum 5

On the opening day of the Sixth Replenishment of the Global Fund, GNP+ and GFAN invite you to attend a side meeting to discuss the Global Fund model as it relates to key populations in the context of the Universal Health Coverage declaration from the UN High-Level Meeting on September 23rd 2019.

Our panel representing various civil society, key populations and Global Fund perspectives will discuss key priorities as Global Fund and HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria advocates on the road towards the Sustainable Development Goals in 2030, SDG3 in particular. This will include discussions on how we finance health and advocacy for health, elements of the Global Fund model as it relates to key and vulnerable populations specifically and in general that we want to promote as part of our work towards Universal Health Coverage that is country-led and puts the “last mile first”.

Simultaneous translation will be provided at this event.

Please register here no later than September 23rd at 10 am Eastern Time.

RSVP is required by all who are not official delegates - if in doubt, please register!
